LADDER PRODUCTION FILMS

DEAD MUSICIAN FAN CLUB

A film by Andy Denson

Comedy feature
Denver, Colorado

Four friends.
Too many opinions.

Four Denver friends worship dead musicians.
Their devotion collides with racism, ambition and unstable friendships.

74:54

Official online runtime

A comedy feature set in Denver.

Produced and first screened in 2018.

Released on Ladder’s channel in 2019.

Friendship under pressure

Still from the released film, 22:00

Music, memory and identity

Friends navigate cultural tension and predominantly white social spaces in Denver.

The ensemble

Niyankor Ajuaj — Oreo
Zoya Brou — Calle
Sage Iman — Vanelle
David Rose — Don
Haley Moriah — Hawk
Kevin Durkin — Ghost Musician
/ Calle’s Dad

Creative team

Andy Denson
Writer and director

Mikayla Chukes and Andy Denson
Producers

Sheldon Valdez
Cinematography and original music

Quentin LaPorte
Poster artwork

A Denver story

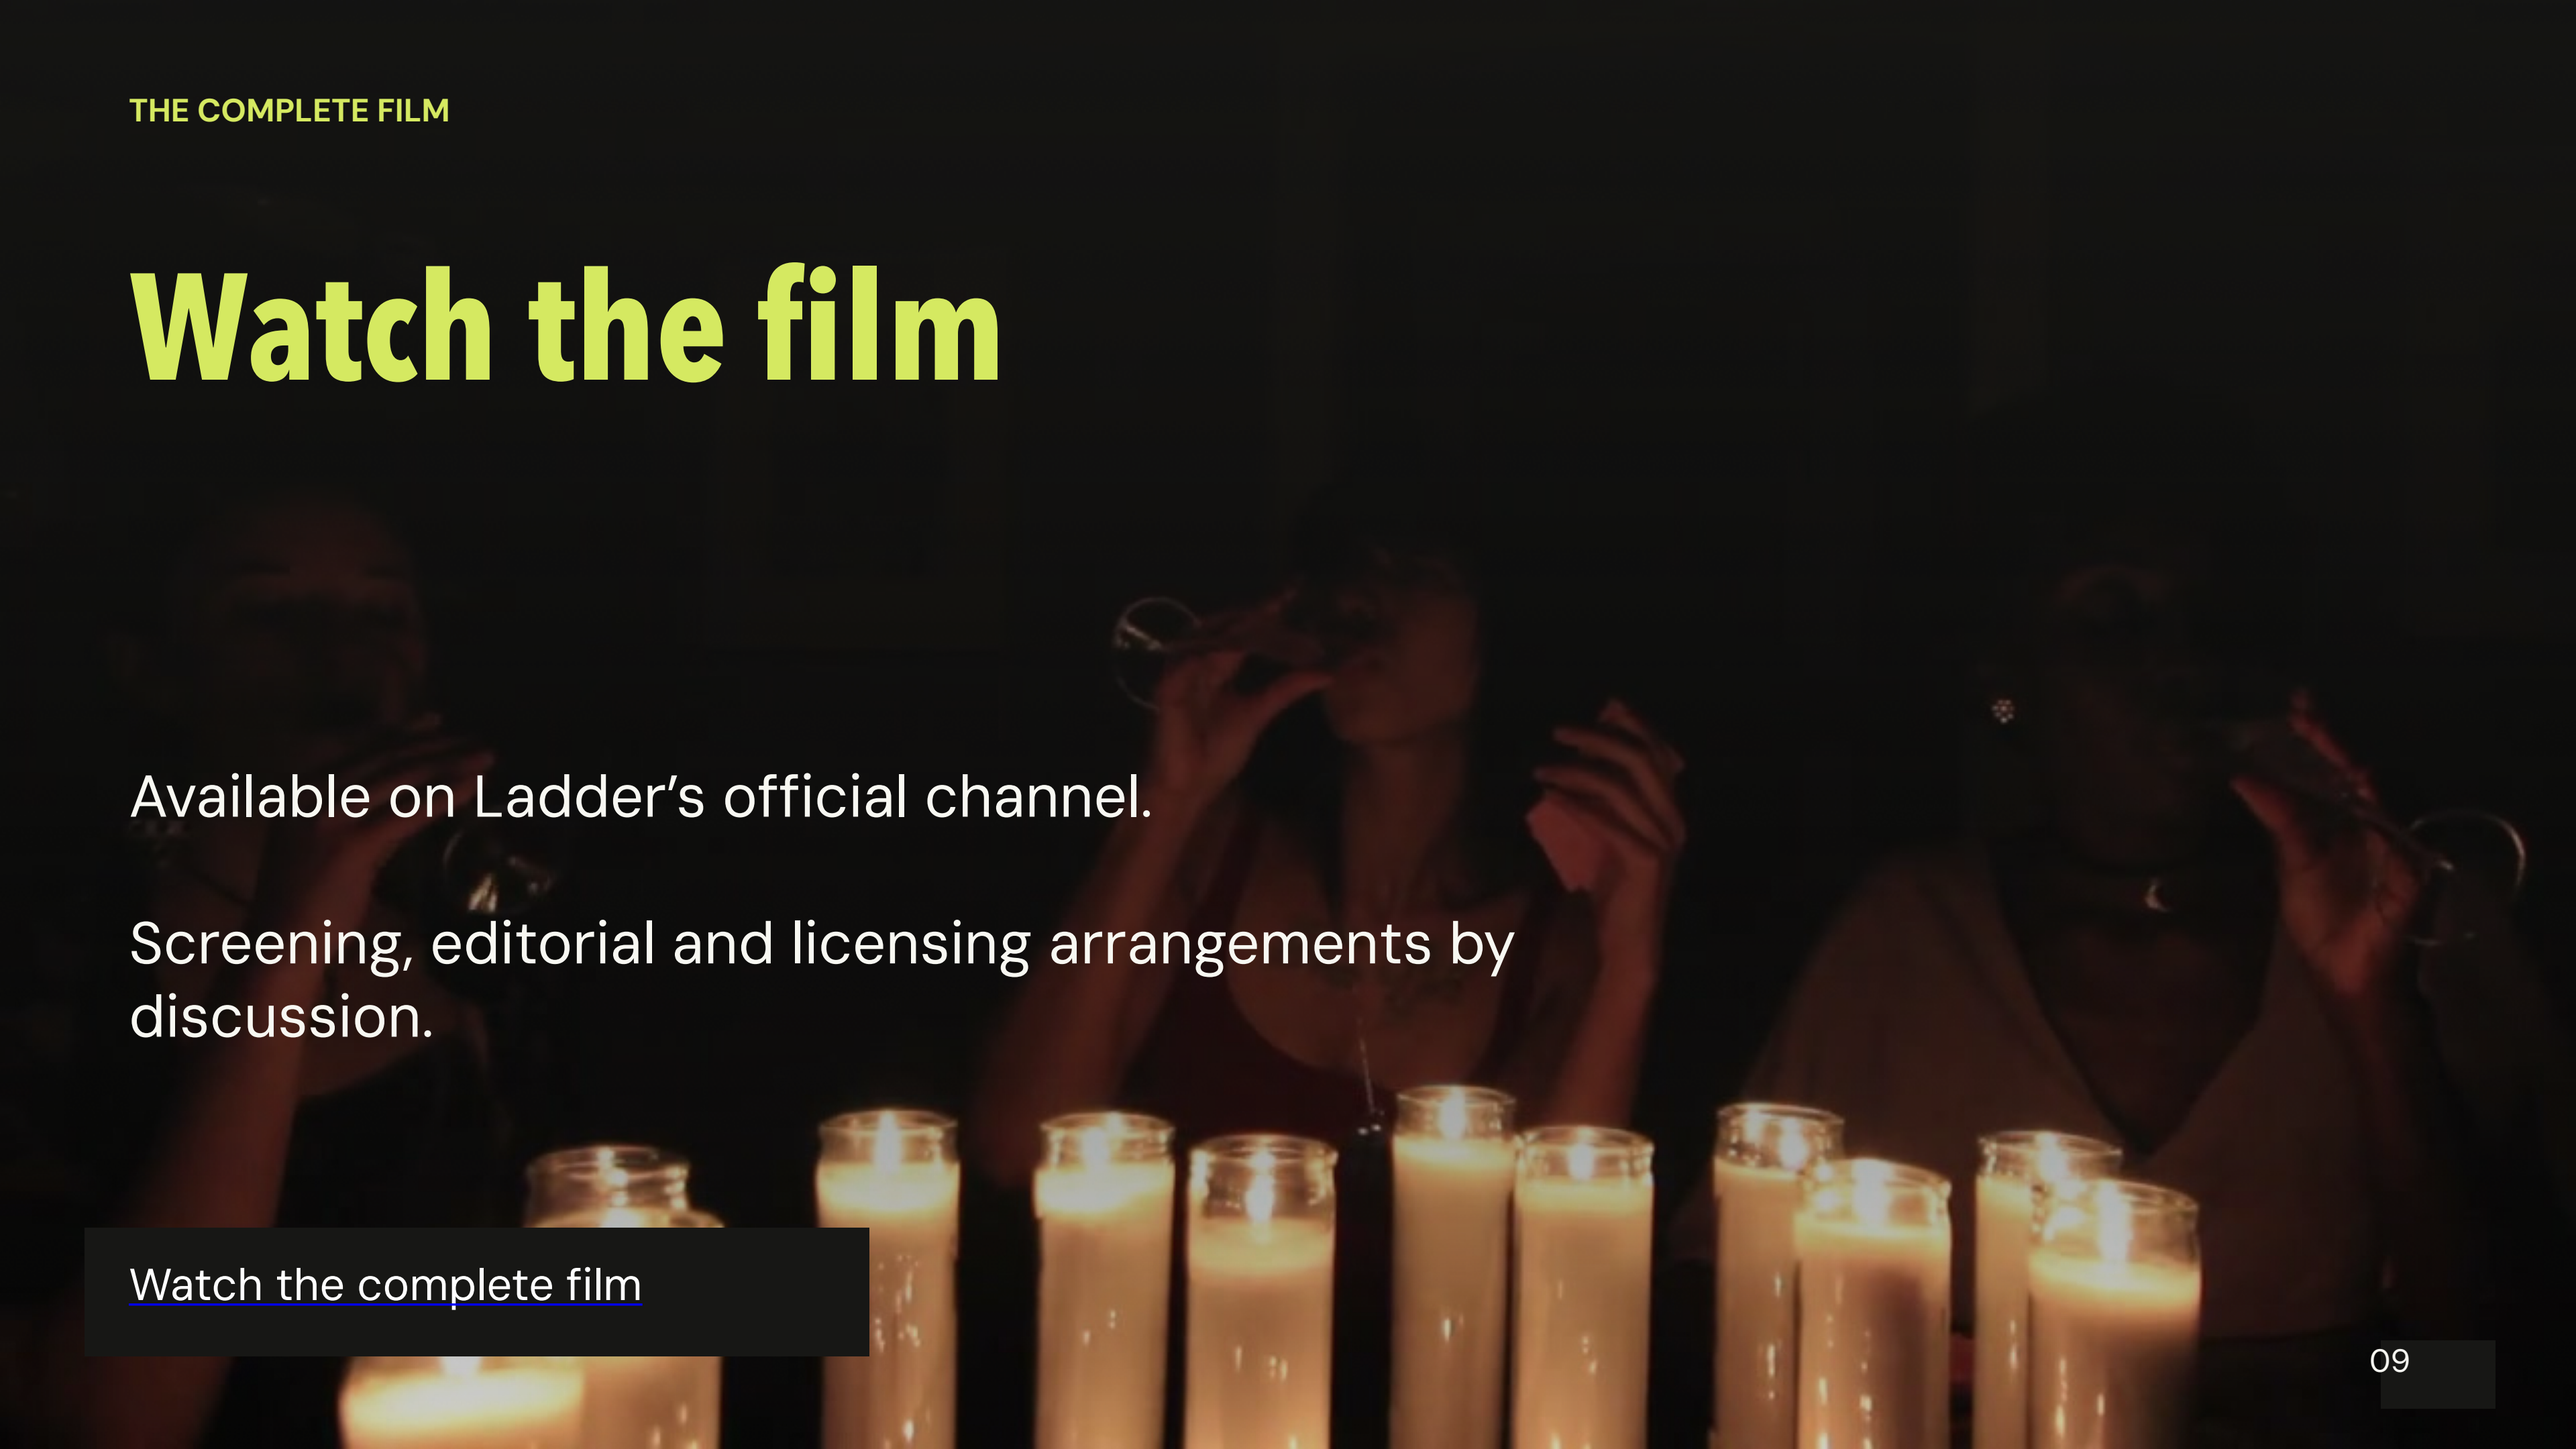

An early narrative feature from a filmmaker connecting American and Filipino experiences.

A compact ensemble with a premise built around music.

Audience and programming

Independent comedy for adult audiences, with music culture and questions of identity as starting points for programming and discussion.

Watch the film

Available on Ladder’s official channel.

Screening, editorial and licensing arrangements by discussion.

Watch the complete film

LADDER PRODUCTION FILMS

Contact

Dead Musician Fan Club

Screening, distribution, licensing and press enquiries

ladderproductionsllc@gmail.com

ladderproductionfilms.com

Instagram / Facebook / TikTok
@ladderproductionfilms

YouTube @LadderProductionFilms

Cebu City, Philippines

